Psalm 91 - Prayer of Protection & Comfort

Dear God, according to your word . . .

I will dwell in the shelter of the Most High and will rest in the shadow of the Almighty. You Lord are my refuge and fortress, my God, and in whom I trust. Surely God, You deliver me from the fowler's snare and from the deadly pestilence. Lord, You cover me with Your feathers and under Your wings, I can find refuge. Your faithfulness is my shield and bulwark. I will not fear the terror of night, nor the arrow that flies by day, nor the pestilence that stalks in the darkness, nor the plague that destroys at midday. A thousand may fall at my side and ten thousand at my right hand, but it will not come near me. I will only observe with my eyes and see the punishment of the wicked. You are my refuge. You are my dwelling place, my place of security. No evil (terror or arrows) will befall me, or plague (pestilence or destruction) will come near me or my household. For you will command Your angels to protect me, to guard me in all my ways; they will lift me up in their hands, so that I will not strike my foot against a stone. I will tread upon the lion and the cobra; I will trample the lion and the serpent. Because I love you, I will call on you and you will deliver me from evil and set me in heavenly places. For I personally know and acknowledge your name – Jehovah. When I call you, you will answer me, be with me in trouble and rescue me, and honor me as your daughter/son. With long life, you will satisfy me and show me your salvation, your spiritual covenant to me. Now I commit myself safely into your hands.

In the wonderful name of Jesus I pray.

Amen.
